

Understand Zillow Home Loans and practice buyer introductions

57 minutes including practice · 26 screens

Edition 2026-09-17-day4-two-sections-v5

Before you begin

Eric opens Rep, selects the training and existing agents across teams, confirms the timezone, and creates the session. The creator is the default presenter and follow-up coach. Keep the presenter console on your screen and share the separate presentation window from the same browser. Click an answer on your presenter slide to highlight it in both windows. Ask for the reasoning, then click Submit answer to share the explanation. Open Presenter notes in the toolbar for the current slide; those notes stay private. People without HQ can answer aloud and explain their choice; this discussion selection does not create an individual submission.

Ask each selected agent to open the session through their own existing login. No second invitation is needed. Confirm that everyone can join and see the current activity. Submit written work before showing the model. Give one correction, then ask for a targeted retry. Advance to the question. Agents answer and submit on that slide, and their answers appear automatically beside your slide. Review actual arrivals before revealing the example. If someone needs more time, pause or return to the slide.

In self-paced study, notes remain in the learner's browser until they choose to share them. In a live session, the presenter sees submitted answers and progress; unsubmitted writing stays private. Preserve first attempts; a retry after an example is assisted.

For remote practice, use the meeting platform's breakout rooms. Assign pairs or trios and rotate agent, buyer, and observer. In pairs, the buyer gives feedback. Every agent needs a speaking turn, one correction, and a retry. If a partner is absent, assign a coach or leave the observation outstanding.

What each signal means

Connection status is separate from participation. A submitted answer is separate from a completed action. A record check is separate from writing quality. Record who observed a speaking turn and who reviewed it; a peer observation or self-check is not coach sign-off. Practice readiness, quiz certification, and activation remain separate.

What has mattered most when working with a lender?

Ask the question before teaching. Give agents a moment to think, then hear two or three answers. Record the examples they give and refer back to them during the following knowledge slides. The discussion is ungraded. Handoff: Next: What Zillow Home Loans does

Ask the room: Next: What Zillow Home Loans does

Participant task: Think about a transaction you have worked on, a home you bought, or another experience with a lender.

- What would you say or do? Explain your reason.

Reveal after the first response:

Use the group's examples to introduce ZHL's service, loan options, approval process and communication tools. These are the questions to evaluate with the loan officer; no lender can promise an outcome before reviewing the buyer and property.

Coach-led discussion. No automatic grade. Ask learners to explain their reasoning and what information would change their recommendation.

Ask the room: Next: Introduce the buyer and practice the connection

Participant task: Take thirty seconds to explain what a buyer could learn from a ZHL loan officer.

- What would you say or do? Explain your reason.

Reveal after the first response:

The loan officer can explain loan options, payment and cash needed. An estimate is a starting point; verified financing involves supporting documents and conditions. Confirm outstanding requirements and property-specific timing before relying on the letter.

Participant task: You are wrapping up the first showing. The buyer says, "I definitely want to keep looking and buy a home. I'm hoping to move in the next three months."

- What would you say or do? Explain your reason.

Reveal after the first response:

Ask whether they already have a lender and what they need to know about financing. Connect the introduction to their near-term purchase goal, identify Zillow Home Loans, ask permission, and confirm a contact method and time. Do not transfer them just because they attended a showing.

Coach-led discussion. No automatic grade. Ask learners to explain their reasoning and what information would change their recommendation.

Ask the room: Next: Review what happened in the introductions

Participant task: At the end of the first appointment, introduce a willing near-term buyer to a ZHL loan officer. Complete the introduction and confirm the proposed call.

- Which exact sentence or missed step did your observer ask you to improve?
- What did you say or do differently on the retry?

Observer criteria:

- Checks purchase timing and whether a lender is already involved
- Explains what the ZHL conversation will help the buyer understand
- Asks permission and respects the buyer's answer
- Introduces both people and confirms contact method, owner and time

Ask the room: Next: Use this checklist after your next first appointment

Participant task: Return to the group. Share the wording or correction that made the conversation clearer.

- What would you say or do? Explain your reason.

Reveal after the first response:

A clear introduction names the buyer's goal, explains what the loan officer can help answer, asks permission, and confirms the connection. For a buyer twelve months away with no request for financing help now, agree on agent follow-up. Respect a decline and record the agreed plan.

Coach-led discussion. No automatic grade. Ask learners to explain their reasoning and what information would change their recommendation.

Buyer practice cards

Jordan · first appointment, buying within three months

I definitely want to keep looking and buy a home. I have not spoken with a lender yet. I want to understand the monthly payment and cash I will need.

Buyer: accept an introduction if the agent explains the reason and asks. Prefer a group text and offer tomorrow at three. Loan officer/observer: confirm that time only when asked. Give one correction and let the agent retry.

Morgan · twelve months away

I am only looking ahead. My job move is about a year away, and I do not need financing help right now.

Agent: ask what sets the timing, respect that no lender help is wanted now, and agree when to revisit. Do not transfer simply to complete a referral.

Alex · credit concern and a three-month goal

I want to buy in the next three months, but I have a credit issue and need to understand whether I have any options.

Agent: ask whether Alex wants a loan officer to review the options. Explain the purpose and get permission; do not promise approval or decide credit eligibility yourself.

Taylor · already has a lender

I already have a lender I trust, and I do not want another introduction.

Agent: respect the decision. Ask what has already been completed and agree how you will coordinate with the chosen lender.

After the workshop

Live session: closing the session creates assignments for recall within 24 hours, a fresh case in three days, and coach review in seven days. The session creator owns follow-up across the selected teams unless a different authorized coach was selected. Confirm the displayed session timezone. Due and overdue work appears in Rep; the daily digest links to work due or awaiting review.

Self-paced study: arrange those same checks with a coach. If there has been no relevant client opportunity, use a new fictional case and mark real-work application as not yet observed.

Keep the first attempt and correction. A useful follow-up asks whether the agent can apply the skill in another case.

References and certification

Updated September 16, 2026 from the existing Day 4 workshop and Eric's approved interactive-training plan. TRU sales doctrine remains the source for coaching the first call and follow-up.
